

Arizona Republican's Editorial Page

THE ARIZONA REPUBLICAN Published by Arizona Publishing Company.

| Dwight B  | Heard President and      | Manager |
|-----------|--------------------------|---------|
| Charles A | . Stauffer Business      | Manager |
| Garth W.  | . CateAssistant Business | Manager |
| W. Sp     | ear                      | Editor  |

Robert E. Ward, Representative, New York Office,

Brunswick Bldg., Chicago Office, Advertising Bldg. TELEPHONES: Address all communications to THE ARIZONA RE-PUBLICAN, Phoenix, Arizona.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Daily, one month, in advance. 2.00
Daily, three months, in advance. 4.00
Daily, six months, in advance. 5.00
Daily, one year, in advance. 5.00
Sundays only, by mail 2.56

SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 26, 1915,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men .-St. Luke, 2-14,

"Do They Want Roosevelt?"

The New York Tribune on December II sounded a note which is gathering volume throughout the From no other quarter could such a note have been sounded with so great effect. The Tribune is the leading Republican paper of the nation: It had little sympathy with Progressive dectrines three venerage and has expressed none since. It was not administration. But the Tribune, though it may have been classed as reactionary, has condemned, especially during the past year, the course of such republican leaders as Barnes and Penrose and has emphatically approved the influence of the former in

Figure the caption. To They Want Roosevelt?

Do the republican leaders in Washington desire to make Theodore Rooseveli the republican candidate for president in 1916? Do they desire to see Mr Roosevelt nominated and elected?

Colonel Roosevelt's weaknesses are better known than those of any other American. The years since he left the White House have been years which have subtracted from rather than added to his stature as a public man. There have been times in the just three years when his fellow-countrymen have been almost convinced that his usefulness was

But in the last few months there has been no mistaking the fact that there has been a real change in public opinion, and men who were long and steadfastly coposed to Mr. Roosevelt as president and as a candidate are daily confessing to a change of opinion and feeling.

The reason is simple, and it is explained by an almost uniform statement. Thousands and thousands of Americans believe that if Theodore Roosevelt had been president of the United States there would have been no Lusitania tragedy. Those who hold that the tragedy was inevitable believe that without war and without peril of war Mr. Roosevelt would have obtained from Germany a disayowal and a guarantee against repetition of the crime

There is one point on which Mr. Roosevelt's strength has never been questioned. He is a patriotic, loyel, aggressive American. He has from the beginning of his life stood consistently and sturdily an Americanism which is the natural outgrowth of the Americanism of 1775 and 1861. At all times under all circumstances, without hesitation and without qualification, Colonel Roovevelt has champlored, fought for, served, an ideal of national honor which came down to him from other generations of in the present crisis in American history, when we are involved in a dispute with Germany because Germany has murdered American citizens, when we are facing a situation of anarchy and domestic strife at home, Colonel Roosevelt is the one American who has, without hesitation and without thought of the political effect of his words, spoken

Other public men have cavilled and crawled. They have not dared to say the invasion of Belgium a crime, even though not a crime calling for political intervention on the part of the United States, because such a declaration would repel German-American votes.

The Tribune warns the republican leaders that the overshadowing issue, the thing "uppermost in American minds and hearts is the preservation of American honor abroad and American existence at home." It cannot be met as Mr. Wilson has endeavored to meet it, by a "discreet silence." The assue cannot be dodged, it cannot be escaped and it cannot be forgotten by mutual consent.

"Millions of American citizens," says the Tribune "in the last few weeks and months have awakened to a realization of the new conditions and perils that face the country. They are at last appreciating the shame and humiliation of a foreign policy based upon domestic political considerations. They are perceiving the extent of pusillanimity among their politicians and cowardice among their leaders. In this situation there is one man who has neither compromised nor qualified. There is one man who from the very outsel expressed his convictions, his beliefs, his faith, and that man is Theodore Roose-

"They (the republican leaders)," continues the Tribune, "have permitted him to become the single figure in American public tife, identified with a policy of courage and patriotism which will appeal to the American people in the next campaign."

Concluding, the Tribune says: If the republican leaders at Washington desire this thing to happen, there is nothing they need do now that they have not been doing for months. Their present policy is all that is required to make the nomination and election of Colonel Roosevelt inevitable. As the situation now stands, Colonel Roosevelt is the only man who can defeat Mr. Wilson, because he is the only man who has offered an honest smostlitute for Mr. Wilson's policy in the vital question of American honor abroad and security at home. If the republican leaders cannot see this, they are blinder now than they were in 1912, and they will presently pay for their blindness in as complete a fashion. Two generations ago a political party in this country strove to face both ways on a question of principle involving national safety and honor. As a consequence it perished. The Republican party can no more survive half American and half Hyphen tree. If the republican leaders attempt to follow such a course one of two things will happen-either the party will be destroyed altogether or it will become the instrument for the election of Mr.

The Tribune could not have said more plainly that of all the avowed candidates for the republican nomination there is none who iscavailable and who could appeal to the American people on the great and overshadowing issue of the next campaign. Mr. Roosevelt, the progressive leader, stands alone before the people

The editorial of the Tribune met with instant endorsement. Three days later it printed several of many letters of approval, some of which were written on the day the editorial appeared. Among the writers are "life-long republicane" and at least one Wilson democrat. Elsewhere this morning we reprint these endersing communications.

Not a Finsco

Only the shallow and the narrow speak of the peace mission of Mr. Henry Ford as a "fiasco." No enterprise conceived with a high purpose can possibly be a flasco, though it may end in disaster and humiliation. No enterprise could have been conceived with a higher purpose than the Ford peace mission. If P could have succeeded Mr. Ford would have ranked as the greatest benefactor of his race that the present or any recent generation has produced. The lives that would have been saved would have been innumerable and the misery and sorrow that would have been averted would have been immeasurable.

Though Mr. Ford is coming home sick and presumably discouraged, it cannot be said that the mission has failed or that it was unwisely conceived. We cannot imagine that so shrewd and hard-headed a business man as Mr. Ford could have believed that he could stop the war by waving a peacewand over Europe. His purpose, we think, was to organize a concrete movement, the spectacular feature of which would attract the attention of neutral nations and, at length, set even the warring nations to thinking. The very disappointments which have overwhelmed the mission may yet have that effect: The seed sown may yet germinate and bring forth

New great reforms have had a more apspicious beginning and still (ewer of them have succeeded in have-crained fining was ever undertaken than the «Hempt of John Brown to free the slaves by force, John Brown believed it could be done and, no doubt, he was surprised and cast down by its failure. On the scaffold he may have been utterly disheartened, believing that slavery had triumphed forever.

Yet, it was only a few years before slavery was abolished and no doubt the years would have been many but for John Brown's wild escapade in Virginia. He set the people to thinking. His death much more than one other incident precipitated the rebellion which freed the slaves as thoroughly as if, under the leadership of John Brown, they had risen as he had expected them to rise and overthrow

Henry Ford set Europe to talking of peace and that is, at least, one step, long or short, toward

Our Friends of Both Sides

An old and valued subscriber and friend of The Republican called at this office yesterday to stop his subscription to the paper. He is of German extraction, if not of German birth, and his sympathies are properly with Germany in the war. He believed that The Republican was biased against Germany. We mention this incident only because almost daily some subscriber whose sympathies are with the allies complains to us that The Republican is pro-

Taking the opinion of these two classes of our readers together we believe that they will be accepted as proof of two things of which The Republican is proud: One is that it is fair; that it is somewhere on middle ground and that its expressions are neither colorless nor tasteless.

We are sorry that our triend on the German side has removed his name from our list and that any friend on the side of the allies has removed his name from the list. But we mourn not as those without hope. We know they will return, for they are still our friends and they will ultimately see that The Republican is neither pro-ally nor pro-German, but that it is against either of them when their conduct of the war infringes upon the rights of Americans. The Republican is American first, last and all the time.

A Gond Christmas

It was a good Christmas. The Christmas spirit war everywhere in Phoenix, more generally diffused than it has ever been before. If any poor child in the city or adjacent to the city did not enjoy some measure of the joy of Christmas it was not because no provision had been made for him, but because the various organizations formed for his relief did not learn of his needs. And every effort was made to locate all the needy.

What has been done has been highly creditable to the people of Phoenix, and they are the better today and will be better all the year for having done it. And here is one thing about Christmas, and the greatest thing, that so many people miss. It is more than the receiving of rich gifts and much more than the satisfaction derived from bountiful dinners. It is the joy of giving, not the exchanging of gifts with well-to-do friends, but the giving to those who are unfortunate and in need,

THE AGE OF DISCRETION

When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul; discretion shall preserve the, understanding shall keep thee; to deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh forward things; who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness; who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the forwardness of the wicked,-Proverbs ii, 19 to 14.

LITTLE JAMES

at was ever spent in Arizony," sez feller which has Traveled around Hole Lot, to My Paw, "an' it wasn't so Offul Dry 'at you could Reely say 'at it was Dessycated eether, an' th' Fokes apeers to of Got along very Well 'Roused by Reading "Reflections" of Ann Matilda Jones. ndeed. I been where it was a Hole Lot Dryer, frinstance wanst when was in Milwauky without .01 in my Jeens an' wunst in Kentucky. They was stuff to Drink on evry Hand budidn't have th' price. Amid sich surumstances Drouth is more Terrider'n it is in Arizony where they is othin' in Site to remine you of your overty. Here it's Conseeled where only th' Capitalists can find it. Th Worst sufferin' I ever Heerd about was th' case of a feller called Tantylus which was very Thirsty and was tied some kind of Likwid which fist up to his chin ad when he eeched fer it it always reseeded. Phat was like me in Milwanky, Peory. aint Lous an' Kentucky. I could git ny chin up to th' Bar but list then the in th' Hand of th' Bartender always Reseeded when he seen that they cas no Money in site. Tantylus didn' ave nothin on me. When th' Prohibitionists made Arilaws. If they'd of only had some Knollige of th' Science of Fizzyognomy Nose aint no Sympathizer with They can read the editorials o Prohibishun Movemence.

"I been tole 'at Santy Claws had by' a pretty Hot Trale between here nd Californy fer some weex an' when th Trale got Too Hot, he'd Change off Regardless of the bosses, for awhile an' Heet up a Trale to Or even hubble's pro's and con's. Lordsburg, N M., which is th' Neard- Or big financial los est Releef Stashun on th' other side. seen lots of Fokes which sed 'at they heard th' Bells of his Rain Deers They think is good and righteom is they Passed in th' Nite an' wun eller tole me th' 'at he ackably Cot Glimpst of him wunst.

Santy Claws seen to it 'at none of of th' Constituent Parts of Plum Pudlins was missin' in Arizony. I under stand, 'at he's been so Actif 'at he's prot in more ingredience an' Constit went Parts of Pize an' Puddin'n could be used by all th' House Wifes in Arizony in th' next Thousand yeers 'at them ingredience has been urned over to other Purposes."

my Paw," 'at Santy Claws has been be gaged in th' Boot Laigin' Diziness." "No," saz th' Travler, "I woddent zzuckly call it Boot Laugin' but that's what some of th' Sheriffs thinks it is

A little nonsense, now find then, Is relished by the wiest men." s relished by the wiest men." Out of town gelfers of the a trite saying, but nevertheless a few days include Harry Tritle and ne I chanced ern city one night when a total clipse of the moon occurred. Some lays afterwards I was told the folowing story, which I assume to be

A TOTAL ECLIPSE

was hid. At a very late hour that night: And he "popped the question-they

And his jealous rival was heard to

When he found himself undone

In the next piece my rhythmical

IN A SCOTTISH CHURCHYARD Whose walls the ivy climbs,

His sight is growing dim. The border plants, and bits of hedge,

The rest he long has waited for Comes not, but added care: for mighty England is at war. And Allworth lads are there. Som Scottish boy comes back, ast week, Macdonald of the Glen Was laid away with tears; ast night, 'twas bluff old Sonter

And bursting shell replied.

Make tremulous the air and stir the immemorial leaves Of ivy on the walls

ing on the Prohibition Amendment, "This is th' First Dry Chrissmusony Dry they was wun thing 'at they idn't Count onto an' that was Santy hey'd of Knode 'at he'd hafto be in Reckoned with. Any feller like him They miss the mark at eleverettes with a red face an' a Redder an' Bull-Of Jacobean style

ANN MATILDA JONES

Her Reflections in Prose and Verse

(All Rights Reserved.)

When the moon popped out of sight.

That moon-eclipse wasn't half so

As the total eclipse of my mother's pendulum swings to the other ex-reme, and I give a more sober ex-dinner on Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. F ression-a war poem-something I M. Morgan and Miss Morgan, Missour, have not before attempted in these Valley, ia.; Miss C. G. Olsen and Mr.

mong the graves by Allworth kirk The graybeard sexton does not shirk His task in troublous times. Though oftentimes his friends al-

Are always neat and trim.

Week after week new glebe he breaks And with his buried kinsemen makes His long, vast bivouac

And both were Fusileers. on Honor's sacred field they fell, In Flanders, side by side, When hurtling shot had challenged

There's many a stricken maiden

In utter, bleak despair: And children's cries and widows

Of Allworth kirk; a nation grives-So wide the ruin falls,

What woe, what infamy, what sin. What monstrous crime is this That madly flings a world within while the sword of Justice sleeps. Secure the guilty dwell; God! Would they might sound the deeps Of War's unmeasured hell!

ANN MATILDA JONES. (To Be Continued) RUMINATIONS

Who steads awhile away To read the morning paper On her buisest busy day And in many a kitchen corner 'Midst the prost pots an' pans, Just some or linary woman (Of an ordinarier man,) While she stands and stirs the puddin Waits for tardy dough to rise Keeps her mind and thoughts a stirrin' Mixin' politics and pies.

Lost on dusty desert air, So there's many a near-politician Swamped in dreary household care, For these dames there's no expression In the realm of politics. If they do not read the papers Know the ropes and learn the tricks

Good as Ann Matilda Jones Like Little Jame's mones Should they fail in "Rambling Rem-

Of a late Republican, As they its columns scan, They il cost their votes for whom and

And these same votes will win or lose or some pacr man-the White House,

CHANDLER

Both out of doors and in yesterday parit prevailed. All day people dotted he golf links. There were players of You don't meen to Tell me," sex the tennis courts and horseback riders viewed the country from the back of Bill Huggett's horses. The Christ nas festivities, however, properly be gan on Christmas eve when the Christ mas tree was lighted and a twelvet looks to me more like Safety First foot row of stockings was hung before the big fire place in the lobby. With fire place of that proportions, the roposition was naturally too affuring o Santa Claus to resist, and he did

> The arrival of Harry Collis, the San larcos golf professional and his asstant, Emil Dowe, has given an additional impetus to golf. The plans Mr. Collis has started to work out in furher trapping and bunkering the course, are most interesting, and in clude some very scenic water hazards gelfers of the pass ber, R. B. Clark, E. S. Wallace and J G. Aldrich, Jr., of the Evans School Two officers of the French arm; Capt. B. Sarret and Capt Al Lafor were visitors at the San Marcos : Monday for the purpose of buying orses. Capt. Lafon is recovering from a wound received in the trenches a the French front.

Frank Luke, W. K. Bowen, C. W. Peerson, J. T. Bone, H. L. Peterson and Clarence Thode, with Warren McArhur spent part of Tuesday at the Sar Marcos, being in the Chandler district

Mr. Frank M. Smith, a member of he well known Chicago real estate firm and brother is spending the win ter at the San Marcos. He is an en the Chandler grass golf links.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn J. Anderson, of and Mrs. P. B. Sargent, Phoenix. Mrs. H. H. Gross of Chicago, who is isiting at Chandler, entertained at inner at the San Marcos on Sunday vening, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. J Lewis, Miss E. L. Condit and L. H. Armstrons Mr. and Mrs. N. P. S. Sanders, Miss lare Sanders, Mrs. A. Van der Veer-frown and Chas, A. Van der Veer moored from Phoenix and were guests t the San Marcos Sunday. Prof. H. D. Evans with W. H. Wade L. Steward, Elbridge Stratton and

H. O. Apthrop of the Evans School formed a dinner party at the San Marcos on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Edwards and laughter and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Presott, spent Sunday at the San Marcos

PHOENIX TITLE AND TRUST COMPANY

What It Does

Issues Guarantee Title Policies,

Holds Title in Simple Trust. Makes Abstract of Title Closes Deals in Escrow. lesues Mortagee's Certificates. Acts as Trustee for Syndicates. Handles Corporation Bond Issues, Acts in any Trust Capacity.

In Fact, It Is, in Every Way

MODERN TITLE COMPANY

VALLEY BANK PHOENIX, ARIZONA

CAPITAL $500.000.00

THE HIGH DEGREE OF EFFICIENCY

in banking transactions which assures accuraey, promptness and satisfaction is realized by an account with the Valley Bank, Phoenix. We desire to make our service increasingly useful to depositors and clients. Cheeking Accounts are cordially invited.

FOR YOUR SAYINGS

can, Phoenix entertained E. H. Hedland of Chicago, at the San Marcos

Dr. A. J. Chandler entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chandler and the Exposition of Arts in Venice in 1916. Misses Marian and Louise Chandler at dinner at the San Marcos, Wednesday. INTERNED SAILORS AT CHURCH Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Entz of Mesa and Mrs. L. A. Woods of Chillocothe, III. Saturday and Mrs. Alfred Franklin of Phoenix

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Standahe, Miss. Wayham and Mr. Vaugha of Phoenia dance at Caristmas services at Portsmotored over from Phoenix to the San month. Two hundred sailors, accom-Murcos for dinner Senday. Hutlz and Mr. Donald Hultz of Phos- returned to their ships immediately nix at the San Marcos Tuesday. Latter the services.

WON'T HOLD EXPOSITION

[Republican A. P. Leasen Wire] PARIS, Dec. 25 - A Havas dispo not to hold the Tweifth International

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire] NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 25.—The nov epartment order probibiting shore leave for men on the interned Germ I: centsers Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kron Prinz Wilhelm imposed October 12 be cause of broken paroles, was suspended Lincoln Powler entertained Mrs. murched to the church in a body and

GET READY!

In Tuesday's Papers We Will Publish the Easy-tofollow Rules of

OUR CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB

Read them—see how simple they are made for your profit—asking so little of von. We do the work—furnish all receipts -keep track of the money that will give you happiness—and then give you interest besides. Ask for handsome circular that tells the whole plan and answers your

THE PHOENIX SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST CO.

"Phoenix' Only Savings Bank"

MONEY TO LOAN

On Salt River Project and Buckeye Ranch Lands

AMPLE FUNDS

offered you on long time basis with favorable interest rates

NO DELAY

Dwight B. Heard

Central and Adams Sts.

See Mr. Lilley